

UrbaChina Newsletter

UrbaChina, a FP7 programme coordinated by CNRS-EHESS

2013-23 (June)

China Water Risk = 中国水危机
edited by Monique Abud

Presentation of China Water Risk web portal, which gives relevant information on water issues. China Water Risk is a non-profit initiative designed to help investors, businesses and individuals understand and mitigate risk around water.
<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/5102>

Is China about to introduce a national carbon price?
edited by Monique Abud

China, which emits one-quarter of the world's greenhouse gases, is about to implement a massive experiment in emissions trading.
Arup, Tom. (2013) Where there's smoke there's China. The Age World, 8 May (accessed 7 June 2013)
<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/5088>

UrbaChina 3rd International Conference, 3rd day
written by Sebastien Goulard

During the 3rd day of the UrbaChina 3rd International Conference, attendees have the opportunity to make several fieldtrips in Kunming visiting interesting urban projects, such as the Dianshi lake to know more about water pollution in Kunming, Guandu ancient town, a historical and cultural heritage site and the Campus city of Chenggong New Area construction.
<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/5093>

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/>

urbachina-edition@services.cnrs.fr

UrbaChina Newsletter

Mobility crowdsourcing

edited by Jacqueline Nivard

In current carpooling systems, drivers and passengers offer and search for their trips through available mediums, for example, accessing carpool website by smartphone, for finding a possible match of the journey.

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/5026>

UrbaChina 3rd International Conference, 2nd day

written by Sebastien Goulard

Attendees to the UrbaChina 3rd International Conference

During the 2nd day of UrbaChina 3rd International Conference, UrbaChina consortium members had the opportunity to listen to presentations prepared by Chinese scholars on the urbanisation in Kunming.

Members of the Stakeholder committee (Massimo Bagnasco, Meng Jianjun, Yuan Zhigang, Bernard Yvetot) gave to the audience advice to pursue the UrbaChina programme with success.

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/5035>

UrbaChina 3rd International conference

written by Sebastien Goulard

The Urbachina 3rd International conference has started on June 3, 2013. This event is hosted by the Yunnan University, Kunming.

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/5018>

UrbaChina Newsletter

Funded under the European Commission's Seventh Framework Programme, UrbaChina is a collaborative project managed by a consortium of 11 leading Chinese and European research institutions. UrbaChina analyses China's urbanisation trends for the next 40 years and define possible future scenarios with reference to concepts of sustainability.

Members:

- CNRS
- East China Normal University
- Development Research Centre
- University of Birmingham
- Chinese Academy of Social Sciences
- LSE
- Chinese Academy of Sciences
- ISIS
- University of Lisbon
- People's University
- Anhui academy of Environmental Science Research