

UrbaChina Newsletter

UrbaChina, a FP7 programme coordinated by CNRS-EHESS

2014-4 (January)

Who deserves to be minimally alive in Chinese cities?

edited by Monique Abud

Conference paper by Dorothy J. Solinger (University of California, Irvine/East Asian Institute, Columbia University) for the 2013 annual meeting of the American Political Science Association.
<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/8459>

Urban Futures-Squaring Circles: Europe, China and the World in 2050

edited by Sebastien Goulard

Urban Futures-Squaring Circles: Europe, China and the World in 2050
International conference on urban futures to be held in Lisbon 10-11 October 2014, call for abstracts
<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/8477>

Popcorn (baomihua – 爆米花)

written by Miguel Elosua

Photo taken in Guanling county (关岭县), Guizhou, in December 2013.
<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/8432>

UrbaChina Newsletter

China: tradition and modernity

edited by Aurélia Martin

Conference/Debate Date 20-22 February 2014 Location Lisbon, Portugal Contact Name: Instituto Português de Sinologia

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/8363>

Panel on urban mutation in China

edited by Aurélia Martin

Information concerning a panel on urban migration in China taking place at the Bibliothèque Nationale de France on 25 January.

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/8411>

Psycho-boom: the rise of psychotherapy in contemporary urban China

edited by Jacqueline Nivard

The rise of psychotherapy in contemporary urban China.

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/8134>

Thirty one provinces in China signed the "Objective responsibility deal for air pollution control"

edited by Chi-Han Ai

The Minister of Environment Protection of the People's Republic of China inked the "Objective Responsibility Deal for Air Pollution Control (大气污染防治目标责任书)" with 31 China provinces.

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/8412>

"Natural" cities

written by Sebastien Goulard

Nature inevitably plays a role in urban place-making.

<http://urbachina.hypotheses.org/8408>

UrbaChina Newsletter

Funded under the European Commission's Seventh Framework Programme, UrbaChina is a collaborative project managed by a consortium of 11 leading Chinese and European research institutions. UrbaChina analyses China's urbanisation trends for the next 40 years and define possible future scenarios with reference to concepts of sustainability.

Members:

- CNRS
- East China Normal University
- Development Research Centre
- University of Birmingham
- Chinese Academy of Social Sciences
- LSE
- Chinese Academy of Sciences
- ISIS
- University of Lisbon
- People's University
- Anhui academy of Environmental Science Research